is experienced in preventing poisonous refuse from being thrown into the rivers. This refuse is from the tinplate, chemical, silver, lead, and other works, which, up to the enactment of the Rivers (Pollution) Act, were allowed without hindrance to run their waste to the nearest stream, and the rivers were in consequence completely denuded of fish. It is satisfactorily to report that through the energetic action of the conservators appointed in the different counties, the proprietors of nearly all the works have been induced to adopt measures to prevent their refuse will be utilized, and the waters effectually protected from further pollution.

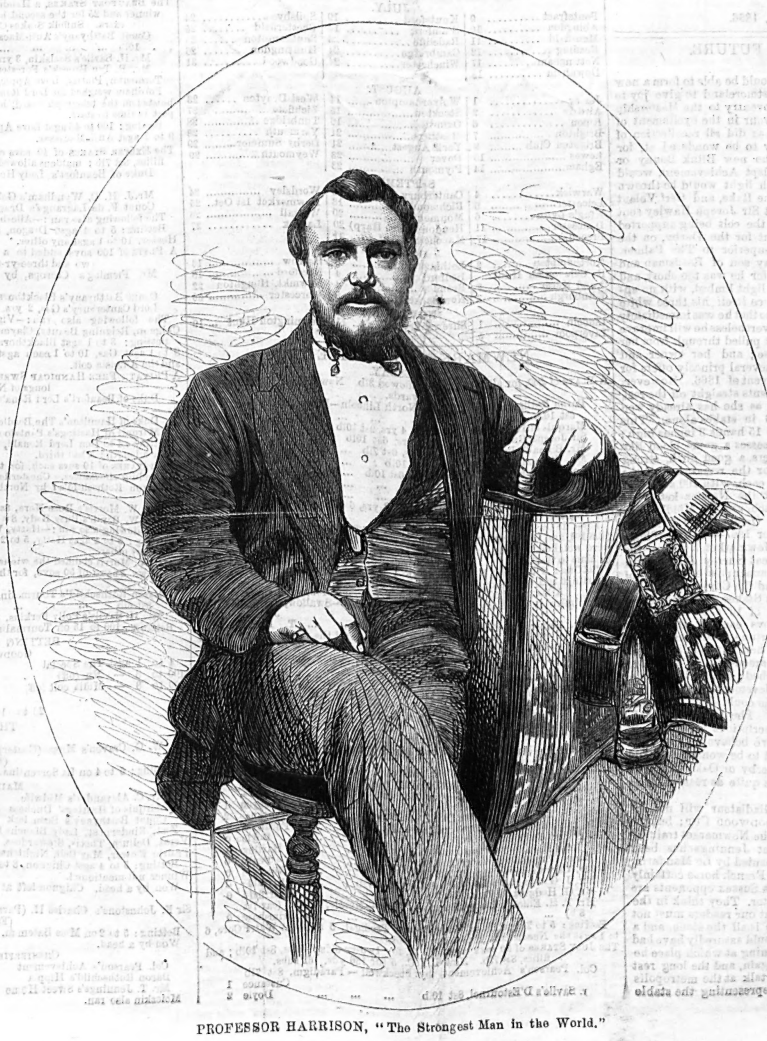

FISHING AND HUNTING IN CALIFORNIA.—The following from the California correspondence of the Daily Times will afford some notion of the resources of the rod and gun which may be found in that favoured State:—

fishing as we get in the mountains, and such shooting—deer, grouse, quail, and water fowl ad libitum—and any ambitious sportsman who wants to try a grizzly can find him, but as a general thing you can't get any one who knows them and the court to acknowledge they

SUN-STRUCK SALMON.—Several hundreds of salmon and salmon trout were found upon Burgh Marsh, on the Cumberland shore of the Solway Firth, last week, under very extraordinary circumstances. Many were lying dead upon the marsh, when they had been left dry by the receding tide, and others were floating lazily and guidly about in the small pools of water on the shore, in a sickly and dying state. As the Coastguardsmen had been exercising a close surveillance over the nets at Bowanes and Port Carlisle during the week, it was at first conjectured that these fish had been thrown out by fishermen who had been infringing the law by fishing at improper times. The supposition, however, proved incorrect; and the conjecture that they had been poisoned was also abandoned as absurd. Old fishermen of the district have now arrived at the conclusion that the salmon, in making their way up the shallow water near the estuaries of the rivers, had been visited by something like a sunstroke; the weather having been hotter than it had been experienced for many weeks.

ALL-ENGLAND FISHING MATCH.—On Monday last, a large number met at Crowle Wharf, near Keadby, in Lincolnshire, Mr. J. R. Keadby, of Lincolnshire, Mr. J. R. Keadby, of the Grapes Inn, Farnborough, and 112 minor prizes, the gifts of his friends, to be competed for in the Keadby Canal. The day was fine, but a strong wind blew during the whole of the time the men were fishing. The entries were larger this year than on any preceding occasion, numbering 569, which were made up principally from Sheffield. The following were the takers of the principal prizes, so far as could be ascertained at the present time:—First prize (£25), Mr. Fisher, of Wombourne, near Leeds, who also obtained a prize of a cup, stand, and shade, the largest lot, which he weighed 15 lb 12 oz. The total quantity of fish caught by the winner was 7 lb 7 oz. Second prize (£20) was won by William Shaw, of Leeds, who caught 10 lb 12 oz. Third (£10), a fisherman, Kirkgate, Wakefield, who killed 12 lb 12 oz.

Round 11—Dove said, "I am going down." Dove got the crook on his max and threw him around the hip in his (Cohen's) own corner.
Round 12—Cohen gave tried to change the aspect of affairs by taking the initiative, and had paraded this mode of procedure from the first the results were not what he wanted. He was thrown down by Dove, being weak and undisciplined and distressed. The round was ended by Dove throwing his max.
Round 13—A fine rally and Dove got down in his own corner.
Round 14—A fine rally and Dove got down in his own corner.

Rounds 13—Wolf led at the nose but was short; being countered pretty close the mouth, which was now much puffed; after some good sparring, We landed a hot one on the eye, getting away cleverly amidst the cheers of his friends, who at the slightest lead taken by "the boy" became very vociferous. After some mutual exchanges Dove threw Cohen.

and although the throwing of rocks and missiles continued, the rioting was beginning to subside. At the twentieth round, a foregone conclusion in favour of the latter took place. Cohen being very unsteady on his pins. At the end of the twentieth the crowd got on the ropes and a desperate struggle ensued, which ended by their falling side by side in Wolf's corner.

Round 21—The rip now began to assume a most remarkable appearance, as owing to the extreme pressure from without and the absence of any ring-keepers, the stakes were all shoved forward and the ring was thus made very small. At the twenty-first round the crowd began to grow impatient and to shout from this time Cohen began to fall off, and Dore to increase his lead and to throw his opponent. At the twenty-second round Cohen was again thrown, much although they fought thirteen more rounds Cohen had no chance.

in any of them, and on time being called for the 35th, Dove walked across the ring and commenced hostilities. He was, however, stopped by Cohen, the principal second, who wisely and humanely threw up the sponge after fighting two hours 35 minutes. Cohen complained of cramp in the leg during the last few rounds, and it was observed that he was very unsteady on his pins.

REMARKS.

We cannot take leave of this encounter without expressing our regret at the manner in which Cohen was defeated (we hope for the moment only) those who had been warmest in his praises before the fight, and who left him in the hands of some of his humblest friends. That Cohen is a good man, no one can attempt to deny, and with practice and perseverance we shall doubtless regain the laurels he has lost. Although defeated he is still far from disgraced, and has earned for himself a name for gameness, which hitherto his warmest adherents had not believed in. No doubt a great many of his friends, and we hope all who can will pay him the compliment of visiting him at his home.

for his colours. Of Dove it must be acknowledged by all who witnessed the fight or read our report, that he is a lad of no common calibre, and will now be regarded as one of the best men out of his weight. A clearer or stouter fighter it has seldom been our lot to see, and the fact of his giving away a stone in weight to a man hitherto unacquainted, and winning with hardly a scratch speaks for itself. We imagine that few at his own weight will be found to tackle him.

Jem Gollagher, in answer to the challenge of Collins, will fight him at (Collins's) own weight, 321 lbs, and stake £100 to £50. Gollagher will have a match with Tom Lane at 321 lbs, and hopes one of them will speed come to terms.

Stanton (the Brick Lad) will fight Harry Neville (the Black) according to the latter's challenge, and is much surprised that Neville did not meet him at the Three Horsehoes on Monday last. £1 of Stanton's is still down.

Jack Fox, of Birmingham, will fight Sam Haley, of Leeds, for £25 a side catchweight.

McKelvey and the Brighton Doctor are now in active training for the forthcoming mill. Speculation is now rife at the West End as to the result of the fight. It is expected that the Doctor will be offered with no takers.

Marsden and Baldwin post their money regularly in the hands of the club stakeholder.

TIENEY AT WILSON—The match between these Birmingham lightweight is safe to come off on Tuesday next, July 10. The stakes are 1 lb weights and the men in active training, and report amongst the w-d-a-wake speak highly of their condition. Tieney is staying at Sam Haley's, Tur Head, Steathouse-lane, under the care of his trainer Nobby Hall, and W. at Underhill's, Black Bay, Stanford-street.

KERRY AND DUFFIN—This match for £25 a side is going on prosperously at Athlone, to be laid up, and it will doubtless come off in the near future.

order at the appointed time, July 17, and it will doubtless come off in the best manner.

Dan Roberts, of Birmingham, will fight Tom Allen at 10st 2lb, for £100 and 100 guineas. Match can be made at Dan Roberts, Salmon Inn, Severn-street, Birmingham.

Old Joe Holden, of Walsall, will fight Fatton Giles, of Birmingham, for 100 guineas, for £20 or £25 a side, or any man in England of the same weight, for £20 or £25 a side. Money ready at Holden's, Malt Shovel at 8st 6lb, for £50 a side.

Morao, of Birmingham, will fight Fawcett at catch weight for £5 a money ready at H. Keel's, Queen's Head, Steeplehouse-lane, Birmingham.

Jack Pore, of Birmingham, will fight Sam Haley, if he will fight him catchweight, for £25 a side. Should this not suit Haley George Probert will fight him at catchweight for the same amount. Money at Joe Warriner's, Fellows' Arms, Manchester-street, Birmingham.

Tom Allen, of Birmingham, will fight Bill Ryall at 11st 2lb, for from £ Tom Allen takes a complimentary benefit on Monday next, July 9, at Aston Cross, in which he will be supported by the flower of the Birmingham choir. The wind-up will be between T. Allen and Joe Gos, and a rich repast is anticipated.

Tom Kelly, of Bradford, and Harry Allen, of Manchester, continue to mark with the weekly deposit for their 10th 10th engagement on Aug. 2 £100. They must be to the fore next week with £210s a side. This may already beginning to create considerable interest in the Northern district, sure to prove a most exciting affair.

Jim Brady and Arthur Chambers, both Salford performers, have now £10 each with the final stakeholder for their match to box on Aug. 7, for a side, neither to exceed 84 lb. A further deposit of £2 10s, a piece marked 'n' Tuesday evening between 8 and 10, at Mr. W. Neville's, Moss Arms, Bury-ated, Salford.

Bob Dackom, of Manchester, being anxious for a job, will box David Mott of Preston, at catch weight, for £25 or £50 a side, or lay him £50 to £40, or completed a professional tour in Wales. He has visited in company with Stanley, Cardiff, Neath, Newport, Carmarthen, Pembroke, Cardiff, and Swansea, and has excited considerable interest in the chief hotels of these places on exhibition of his skill in the scientific game. A match was played on Monday last at the Cameron Arms, Swansea, which, notwithstanding the high admission, was witnessed by a large number of spectators. Mr. Roberts' opponent scored 30 points in 1,000. After a very exciting game, some 10 minutes were required to decide the result. Mr. Stanley was beaten by 10 points.

WRESTLING.—COPENHAGEN GROUNDS, MANCHESTER.—The main event between the celebrated Frank Robinson, of Ashton, and Teddy Lowe, of Wigan, was expected to be a very close contest. The latter has been successful enough to wrestle the best of three back falls in the Lancashire style for some time past, and he was expected to go all right, and come off on July 28, neither to exceed six score or less than five score. A further display of 25 a side must be made to Mr. James Holden, Whitehaven, who will appear at the same place on August 1st. Further Milligate, Manchester, to-day (Saturday).

Five pounds each has now been staked with Mr. Thomas Hayes (the proprietor) for the match between Joseph Clough, of Hollinwood, and Dixon, of Newton Heath, for £50, on Aug. 18. A further deposit of £5 falls due to-day.

W. Heap and T. Etchell's, both of Middleton are matched to wrestle a day, July 7, at catch weight for £5 a side. Mr. Thomas Hayes holds each, and the like amount is to be staked to-day.

Heat 2.—Nicholls, of Plaistow, 7, walked over.

Heat 3.—Munns, Plaistow, 10; Boer, Deptford, 12. Munns gradually gained on his opponent, but was unable to pass him, and they breasted the tape simultaneously, the referee deciding it a dead-heat, and ordered them to run again after a short rest. Munns this time got a bit the best of the start, and caught Boer at eighty yds; Boer here spurred, and a desperate struggle resulted in another dead-heat, amidst great excitement. The referee then ordered them to run in the final heat.

Heat 4.—Cox, Woodford, 13; first: Brown, Birmingham, 10; second. Brown caught Cox at half-way, and commenced "hiding," ultimately running a dead heat with his opponent. The referee ordered them to run off at once, Brown continuing the same game all the way; at ten yds from home he made a rush, but was too late, and Cox was declared the winner by six inches.

The final heat will be run off on Saturday, July 14. Pine and Scott next came on the ground to run 440 yds for £5 a side. After some little difficulty in selecting a referee, Mr. Henry Sampson, of the Illustrated Sporting News, was chosen, and the men proceeded to get ready. After some little delay on the mark, the starter (Mr. Goulding) despatched them pretty evenly, and for 30 yds they ran side by side. Scott now spurred, and at the top of the back stretch was leading by three yds, and he looked all over a winner. In this manner they ran another hundred yds, when Scott's exertions began to tell on him, and Pine, continuing at the same even pace, passed him about fifty yds from home. Scott continued gamely for another thirty yds, but was compelled to desist from sheer exhaustion, and Pine passed the tape the winner of a better race than is generally seen for either a large or small stake. The time (61 secs) was not bad, taking the heavy nature of the course and the fact of their being both novices into consideration.

The next event was the 100 Yds FREE HANDICAP.

Heat 1.—Ingram, 8, first; Ventham, 9, second; Galvin, 9, third. Ingram caught his man within 20 yds of home and won easily by two yds.

Heat 2.—O'Malley, 3, first; Daley's Lad, 10, second. O'Malley caught the "lad" at 50 yds, but the latter would not be passed, and Burgess spurred past him, and won easily, Donaldson retiring in the last lap.

MONDAY.—A few people met here this day, the attraction being a race of half a mile between Markham and Cheston, Markham staking £11 to £10, and allowing his opponent a start of 15 yards. Great difficulty was experienced in the choice of a referee, Cheston refusing consent to the nomination of the representative of the stakeholder, and eventually, Howden, a pedestrian, was chosen. The betting opened at 5 to 4 on Markham in pounds, and a good sum was invested. Just before proceeding to strip, the favorite backed himself at 2 to 1 several times, a proceeding which caused others to follow his example, there being no lack of the takers of odds. Markham is 21 years of age 5ft 7in in height, and weighs 84 10lbs. He has appeared to advantage in several handicaps. Cheston is aged 19, 5ft 4 1/2 in height, and weighs 7st 7lbs. We do not remember having ever seen or heard of him previous to this race. The men started themselves, and after one or two false starts, they got away, Cheston poaching two yards in addition to the quantity allowed him by the article, and Markham in hot pursuit, and getting rapidly on his man, who maintained the front position until arriving at the top of the sprint course, where Markham caught him. Cheston made a desperate effort, and again took the front, and passing the referee for the first quarter, done in 1 min 53 sec, was leading by a yard. Going up the back stretch Markham tried to pass his opponent, who crossed him and they cannoned, a "scrimmage" ensuing, several blows being exchanged. Cheston made no effort to continue, and Markham ran round, and breasted the tape first. The referee, however, decided it to be no race, and ordered them to run again on this day (Saturday). All bets stand.

Previous to the above, a sweepstake of 120 yds, for a small sum, was decided between Hanscomb, Toghill Station, and Ford's Novice, a lad of sixteen. Mr. C. Westhall was referee, and Mr. Jones starter. On the pistol being fired, the Novice and Hanscomb jumped away, Toghill making a very bad start. The Novice soon showed in front, and won a good race by a yard. Toghill a bad third.

BOW.

SATURDAY.—Notwithstanding the dullness of the weather on this day there was a numerous attendance at these grounds, the chief attraction being a handicap of 120 yds, for £15, divided as follows:—First prize, £12; second, £2; third, £1. The entries were not very numerous, owing to the acceptance money being generally thought too heavy. There was in addition a handicap of 100 yds "entrance free and no acceptance," which filled amazingly, no less than sixty pedestrians enrolling their names as starters, but not more than one-half appeared at the post. The whole of the directions were under the able management of John Goulding, who officiated as pistol-firer. At six the proceedings commenced with the 120 Yds HANDICAP.

Heat 1.—Cameron, Millwall, 9, first; Ross, Mills-end, 14, second. Won by a good race.

bored his opponent right into the greensward, thus managing to breast the tape first by a foot. The referee, however, disqualified him for running across the course and placed them as above.

Heat 3.—Although six entered for this heat, only one presented himself (Hartland 8), and he therefore walked over.

Heat 4.—Simster, 9, first; Taylor, 8, second; Matthews, 8, third. Five went to the post, and great trouble was occasioned to the starter by the shiftness of the runners, Taylor being put back no less than three times. At length the gun was fired, and after a clipping race they finished as above; a foot between first and second; Matthews close up.

Heat 5.—Gladding, 8, first; Cator, 9, second; Hammond, 9, third. Three started, and Gladding won very easily.

Heat 6.—Fenn's Lad, 9, first; Maloney, 10, second; Waghorn, 4, third. Three only started for this heat, which was almost a walk over for the lad, as he won by two yards.

Heat 7.—Gooch's Novice, 7, first; Ross, 9, second; Starling, 8, third. Four started, after a great deal of fiddling and putting back, and after a good race Gooch's Novice won by a yard, the others close up.

Heat 8.—Blandford, 6, first; Burrell, 11, second; Peplatt, 12, third. Four started, but a short time for rest the winners of the foregoing put in an appearance to run for the Drawn Heats.

1.—Gladding, first; Fenn's Lad, second; O'Malley, third. Four started, and after a most exciting race, Gladding won by a foot, the same distance separating second and third.

2.—Gooch's Novice, first; Simster, second; Hartland, third. Four started. Simster and Gooch's Novice singled themselves from the rest, and they ran shoulder to shoulder till within five yards of the tape, when the Novice just landed by six inches.

Final Heat.

Gladding..... 1
 Gooch's Novice..... 2
 Won easily by three yards. Mr. H. Sampson, of the Illustrated Sporting News, was referee for both handicaps.

BROMPTON.

SATURDAY.—Two amateurs, well-known amongst the swimming fraternity, met here this afternoon, accompanied by a few friends. Their names were respectively Donaldson and Burgess, the distance they had to contend was a mile, and the prize a cup, value £5. A small amount of money was speculated at events. On starting the lad was taken by Donaldson, who retained it for half distance, when

B. Williams and T. Giddiss, both of Birmingham, met to walk six miles for £5 a side, Giddiss having three minutes' start. Betting 6 to 4 on Williams. Mr. Holloway, referee. The men appeared in good condition, and went off evenly in their respective positions after a few minutes passed on the score. Giddiss never lost the advantage allowed him, but kept in front the whole distance, and after a contest in which each evidently did his best, walked in, winning by 40 yards.

J. Shaw, of Sparbrook, and T. Peters, of Birmingham, next took the scratch for their one mile match, for £5 a side. Betting 6 to 4 on Shaw. Mr. Austin Roberts, referee. After an even start at about twenty yds, Peters took the lead, and was never overtaken, Shaw retiring from the contest when two-thirds of the distance had been passed.

MONDAY.—There were nearly a thousand spectators assembled to witness the great match between

H. Gurley, of Birmingham, and O. Mills, of Aston, to run half a mile for £25 a side. Mr. J. Coates, referee. Betting 6 to 4 on Mills, who was attended by Blackey Burton and his trainer G. Hartshorn, who might well be proud of his superior condition, whilst Gurley was under the care of T. Peters and Evans. Gurley had a shade the best of the start, and was leading by about a yard for about half distance, when Mills made a spur, and took the lead, and gradually increasing the distance from his opponent, ran in a winner by twelve yds. Time, 2 min 9 sec.

The following matches are appointed to come off at Aston Cross on Monday next, July 9th:—

The veteran Coleman and Nelson of Harborne to walk 3 miles (the latter having 150 yds start) for £5 a side.

A. Holker of Smithwick, and W. Hodgkiss of Oldbury, to run 100 yds, for £5 a side. Mr. J. Stokes referee, and

J. Weston and T. Adams of Oldbury, to run 100 yds, for £5 a side.

Young Abrahams and Clarke. This 300 yds match for £10 a side is going on regularly, and will be run at Aston Cross July 30.

J. Foynton will run Hadley of Smithwick 120 yds, for £10 or £20 a side, at Aston Cross. Money ready at Mr. Farson's, Dog and Duck, Sheep-street, Birmingham.

Howell of Oldbury, will run Dudley of Stourbridge, 120 yds, for £20 a side, if he will give one yard start. Money ready at Gibbons', Red Cow, Oldbury.

ROYAL VAUXHALL GROUNDS.—A sweepstake of £2 each, and a silver cup given by Mr. Smith, the proprietor, will be contested for on Saturday, July 7, in a seven mile walking match, between H. Smalley (scratch); J. Coleman, 11 min start; J. Watling, 2 min; J. Reeves, 3 min; L. Smith, 3 min; and J. Barnsley, 5 min.

HARRY KELLEY'S TESTIMONIAL.

"Testimonials" and "Presentations" are now-a-days matters of such very common occurrence that one often hears it said that they are not worth having. In every parish, in both town and country, people seem to be seized, at times, with a kind of mania for getting up a testimonial to some one, whose name at the same time may never mitable pluck and resolution are to be found in the breasts of Englishmen. It is also the case with Harry Kelley, of whose aquatic performances we have all reason to be proud; for in every match in which he has been engaged, whether victor or vanquished, his pluck has never once deserted him. It is with great pleasure therefore that we find ourselves enabled this week to present our readers with an engraving of the magnificent cup recently presented to Kelley at the standing on a plateau of rock-work and water, and surrounded by water lilies and swans. The lid of the cup is surmounted by a figure of Britannia in frosted silver, and on the sides are a view of Putney and a representation of a boat-race. The handles are formed of figures of Father Thames, entwined with bulrushes and water lilies, the whole being of an exceedingly handsome and massive character. On one side of the cup is the following inscription:—"Presented by subscribers."

have been heard of beyond the limited circles in which he moves. This is, to say the least of it, rather ridiculous, and tends to bring the practice of presenting testimonials to really deserving men into disrepute. There are certain instances, however, where the presenting of a testimonial is not only most appropriate but in fact the discharging of a debt of gratitude which the nation owes to those who in some way have contributed to its honour and glory. This was eminently the case with poor Tom Sayers, whose battle at Farnborough won for him an European fame, and went far to show to foreigners what indomitable pluck and resolution are to be found in the breasts of Englishmen. It is also the case with Harry Kelley, of whose aquatic performances we have all reason to be proud; for in every match in which he has been engaged, whether victor or vanquished, his pluck has never once deserted him. It is with great pleasure therefore that we find ourselves enabled this week to present our readers with an engraving of the magnificent cup recently presented to Kelley at the Canterbury Hall. A full report of all the proceedings of that presentation has already appeared in our columns, together with an illustration of the grand banquet at which the affair came off. The testimonial was subscribed for by upwards of 200 gentlemen, including most of the leading patrons of rowing. At the conclusion of the feast the cup was placed in front of the chairman, Mr. Thomas Beard, and excited the admiration of all present, for both as regards the design and the workmanship, it is really a magnificent piece of plate. The accompanying drawing represents a massive silver vase-shaped cup, thirty-four inches in height reminded that amongst the piece's many other smatterings is the smattering of opera. Several songs, the composition of Mr. J. L. Hatton, are introduced. They fall mainly to Mr. Honey and Miss Augusta Thompson, who give them admirably. Miss Augusta Thompson too plays the gipsy songs admirably. The songs are all good. The songs are supported by Messrs. J. G. Shore, Meagren, Spencer, W. E. Robins, H. Mellon, C. Seyton, &c., and a very numerous and well-trained corps of supernumeraries. At the fall of the curtain Mesdames Stirling and Nelson are left on the stage. The latter, as the author says, is the author, resulting unexpectedly in that gentleman's making his appearance—he has quite a habit of being "in Paris" upon these occasions—he too was much surprised. The gorgeousness of the "got up" in general, and the splendid costumes, in particular, will be sure to keep this piece about for some time.

LONDON MUSIC HALLS.

WESLEY'S—Messrs. Sweeney and Holland continue their spirited management of this hall with the most satisfying results. Changes of the programme are frequent, and for the most part judicious. The "selections," which under the conductorship of Mr. P. Corri have attained, include Locke's fine English music, both vocal and instrumental; Moratorio and Le Brong, a couple of very clever rhapsodists, also amongst the latest additions. Rikiey continues his juggling feats. His performances with the balls, particularly that portion in which he catches them, balances them upon the sides of his head, and so forth, is very good. Lloyd still retains by popular applause prince of comic singers. He has some good songs in his repertoire, and some that are bad. "The Song of Songs" and "I Would I Were Lord Mayor" are good; but the song about somebody who destroyed somebody's peace of mind is a sorry affair. His last number, "The Song of the Lark," is a very happy one. Her legs, it is bad. The latter may be said to be a typical version of that recent addition to the unavailing features of our daily newspaper, "Indecent Assault in a Railway Carriage." We are sorry to see the name of the unfortunate lady attached to such a story, and to hear her legs thus abused. It was indeed improper to admit that "talking of her legs"—as we might call it, the words are used in the song—tickles the fancy of not a few amongst the audience. Harry Macanthy, Sailor Williams, a couple of new "cackles" from New York, Palmyre and the other English comedians, and the same old jokes and a most melodious baritone—and Harriet Coveport are amongst the rest of the attractions.

CAMBRIDGE.—A mistake occurs in our last week's report of the horizontal bar contest at this hall. The contest was between the MARYLEDONE—A numerous and clever company nightly dispensation at this well-conducted hall. The comic element preva is and is well supported by Mr. G. Buckstone, Mr. W. H. Barry, Mrs. H. Barry, Mrs. Phillips, the D'Albarte family, Harry Bolton and Clara. The latter is a very clever and accomplished comedienne, and has a number of songs in capital style, the best being one about "Love Woman." Her dances, too, with bewildering deftness, and is much applauded both for her singing and dancing. Mrs. Phillips has also a budget of songs which hit the taste of the audience to a nicety. One of the best of these is "The Ten Commandments" as looked by Mrs. Phillips. The D'Albarte Family are a clever troop, and fairly divide amongst them proficiency in song, dance, and humorous delineation. Similarly versatile are Asa Cushman and "Miss Joy" Tennyson, though the latter have the advantage of the former in having a bit of the "dramatic" in their repertoire. The latter is also a very characteristic black servant, and Miss Joy Tennyson is a "Yankee girl," a fellow servant (if the "darkie." Acrobatic is represented by the "Zamezou Family" and other members of the company are Williams, the "Evening Shadow" ("the thickest man on't," and certainly one of the drollest of our comedians), Mr. George Hinton, and the "Giant" and "The Giantess." The "Giant" is a very clever and accomplished comedian, and his "Siege and Fall of Sebastopol" is shortly to be produced with "magnificent effects." How this is to be done with a new and larger stage we are at a loss to imagine.

STATE OF THE DRAMA AND DRAMATIC CRITICISM.—The London Regine, in a review of Mr. Henry Morley's recently published "Journal of a London Playgoer," thus succinctly sums up the present state of the drama:—"Since the centre of London has been turned into a vast railway station, and the Londoner proper has been driven to the suburbs, the theatre has been driven to the country, it there has lost its character as a place of intellectual entertainment, and is transformed into a lounge and a place of mere amusement. Houses which used to be half filled with the best intellect of the metropolis, are now nightly crowded with country visitors, to whom the spectacle is a novelty after the dull monotony of provincial town. There is scarcely an intellectual life left in London, and the drama has therefore become more plentiful. The whole of the London theatres, with scarcely an exception, are in the hands of theatrical tradesmen, who wisely suit their market. The largest theatres scarcely compete with the lowest periodicals in the quality of the writing they offer to their patrons, and the Journal of a London Playgoer is a very good thing, nothing, and the 'scenic artist' stage carpenter are everything. Costume is important, the limelight is very important; the acting requires a little consideration, the bill-sticker more consideration; but the writing is a very trifling and secondary matter. A London Journal, a Sketch often in putting it upon the stage, a good mechanical effect, a splash of colour, a good story, a good actor, a good manager, a cyclorama, a strong faith in the bill-sticker, and in the new audiences who come to London every night, have been at the bottom of nearly all the recent great dramatic successes. The popularity of such exhibitions destroys the art of criticism. There is nothing to criticize, the audience report upon and take. The artist is not a writer, and is not of the advantage of being bound to recognise good writing, and the applause of very large, though very unthinking, audiences is a daily passport to recognition. The weekly papers, with few exceptions, copy the facts and papers, and nothing is abused that has won the good grace of the public." These remarks of our contemporary fall so early in winning our assent, that our only regret is that they do not collect the extracts about the extract as a handy and useful recollection. However, the state of things presented, gloomy though it is, is not one that will justify those interested in merely sitting down and grumbling. Let but the true lovers of the drama put their several shoulders to the wheel, and in a way to be tried, it "not to be feared," "all honour to the artist," "all honour to the manager," "all honour to the audience," "all honour to those who, like our contemporary, do not blink the disagreeable truth,

The Haymarket season closes on August 1. The theatre re-opens Sept. 21

Davidge, the American actor, has just published a book of reminiscences called "Footlight Flashes."

Mr. Wilkie Collins is making haste to dramatize his "Armada." The novel has been such a dead failure that the author probably thinks to save his credit by a success on the stage.

Mr. Greenwood is reported to be in treaty for the "Vic."

Mr. Chatterton is the new lessee of Drury Lane. The season will commence on September 22nd.

Ronconi, the great dramatic basso, has been engaged for New York, for which city he departs immediately upon the close of the Italian Opera season.

Mr. J. F. Barnett has a new oratorio ready—subject, the raising of Lazarus.

Mr. Jefferson, who has left for America, goes, it is said, but to wind up his affairs in his mother country. He returns to England to settle.

We regret to learn that Mr. Robert Roxby, a gentleman whose tact and talent have left their mark upon many managements, and notably upon the most recent at Drury Lane, is dangerously ill.

Mdme. Goldschmidt-Lind has returned to England, and will appear at Mr. S. S. Sullivan's concert on the 11th, when will be given a new symphony and other novelties by that rising young composer.

The Queen has acceded to the application of the Sunday League that a band may be allowed to play in Hyde Park on Sunday evenings, as at the Regent's, Victoria, and Battersea Parks.

The next novelty at the Strand will be an adaptation of a popular French operetta called "Les Deux Arlequins." Messrs. A. Harris and A. Beckett are engaged upon the work.

New York is just now agitated concerning a new excise law, and Barnum accordingly improves the occasion by re-producing a coarse, old, but very popular, low-life drama, called "The Drunkard."

Miss Ellen Terry, whose artistic career at the Haymarket was, it will be recollected, nipped in the very bud by her marriage with Mr. Watts, purposes, it is said, to follow up her recent appearance as Helen in the "Hunchback," for her sister's benefit, by a re-entry upon the stage.

Captain Whyte Melville, the author of a whole series of these peculiar works of fiction which were once a distinguishing feature of Fraser's Magazine, as "Digby Grand," "Kate Coventry," &c. has written a play which may possibly be brought out next season at the Olympic.

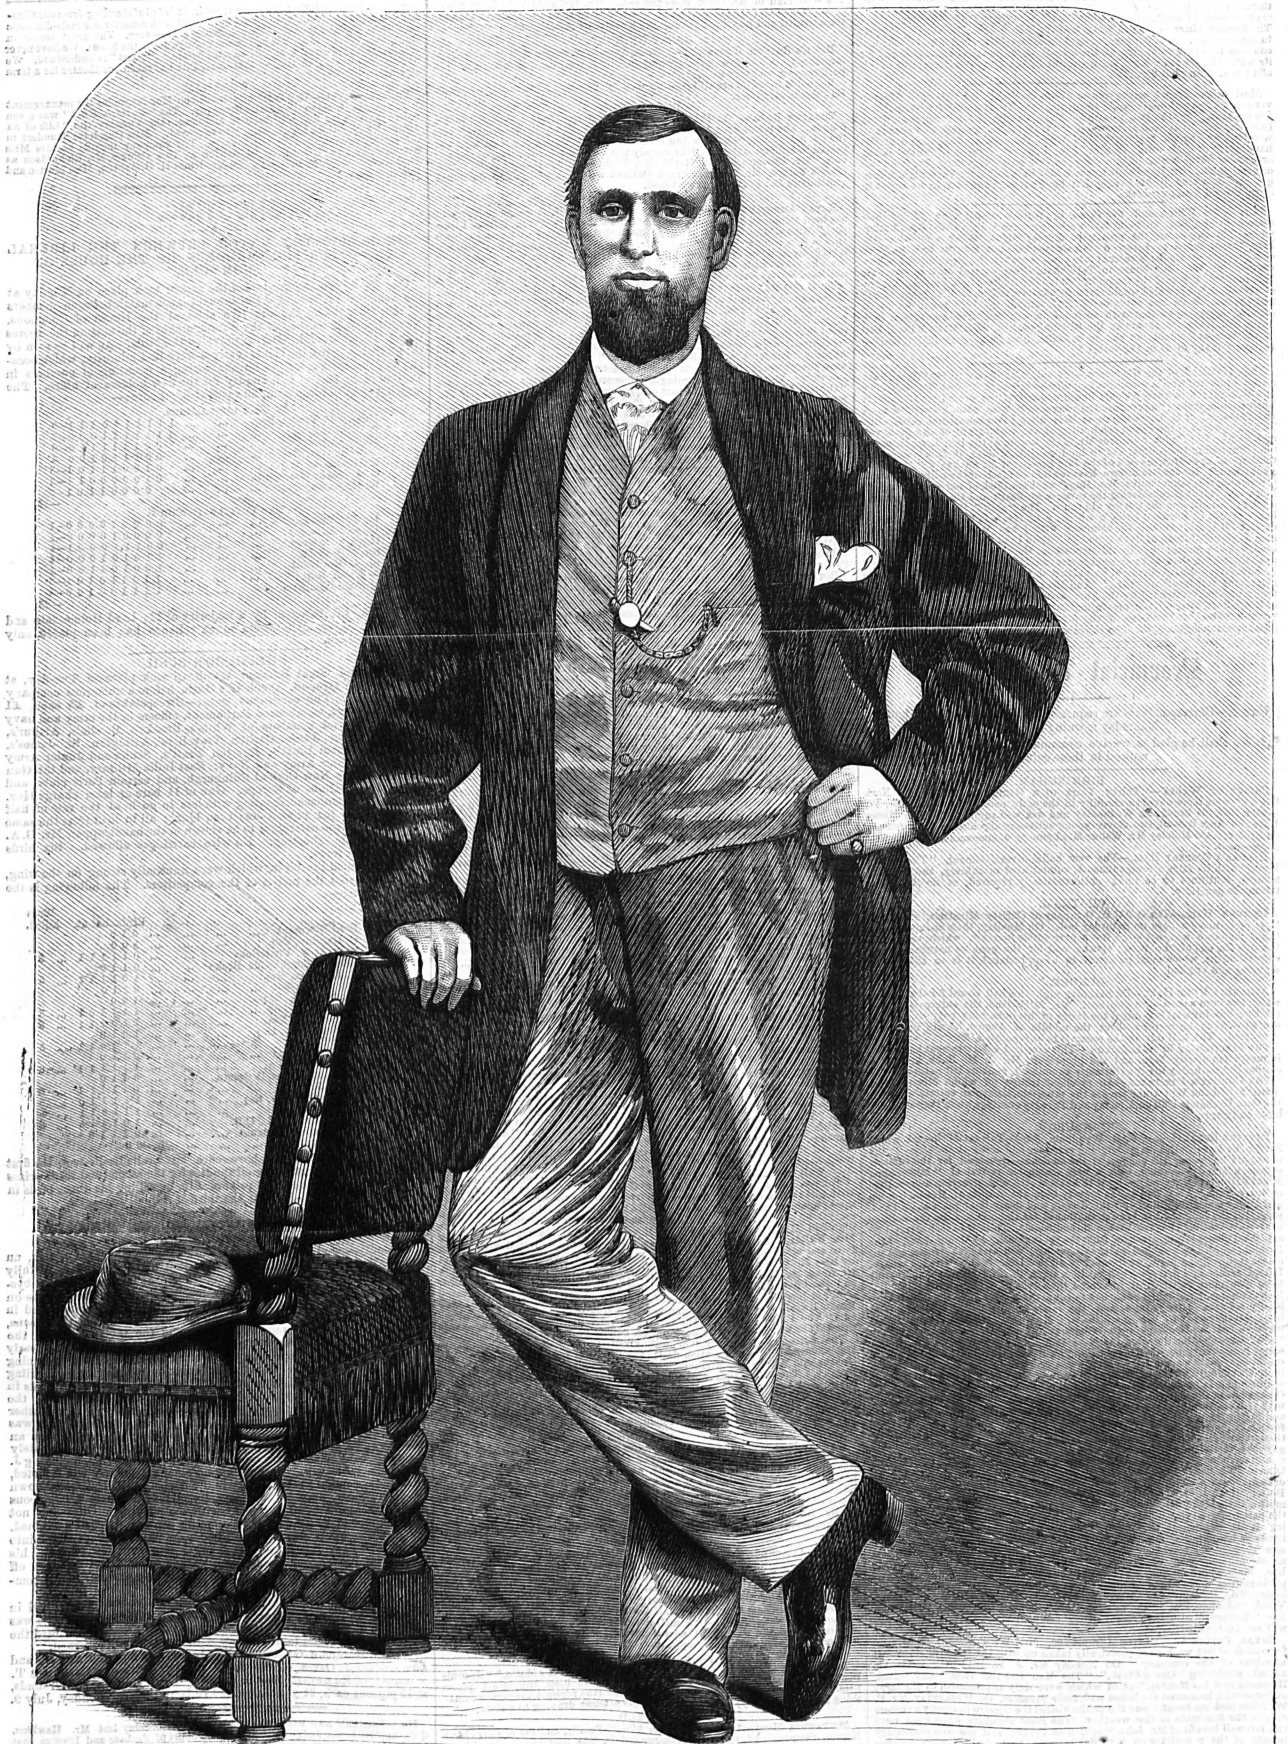

Miss Kate Terry leaves the Olympic at the close of the present season. She will be succeeded by Miss Milly Palmer, a lady who, though a great favourite in the north of England, is known only to Londoners through one brilliant but brief season at the Strand.

Covent Garden Theatre will not be lost to the pantomime public of next Christmas. Mr. Alfred Mellon has made arrangements with Mr. Gye by which his usual season of "concerts," which commences about the middle of next month, will be prolonged into December, when they will be succeeded by the usual grand Christmas pantomime, the theatre being still under Mr. Mellon's management.

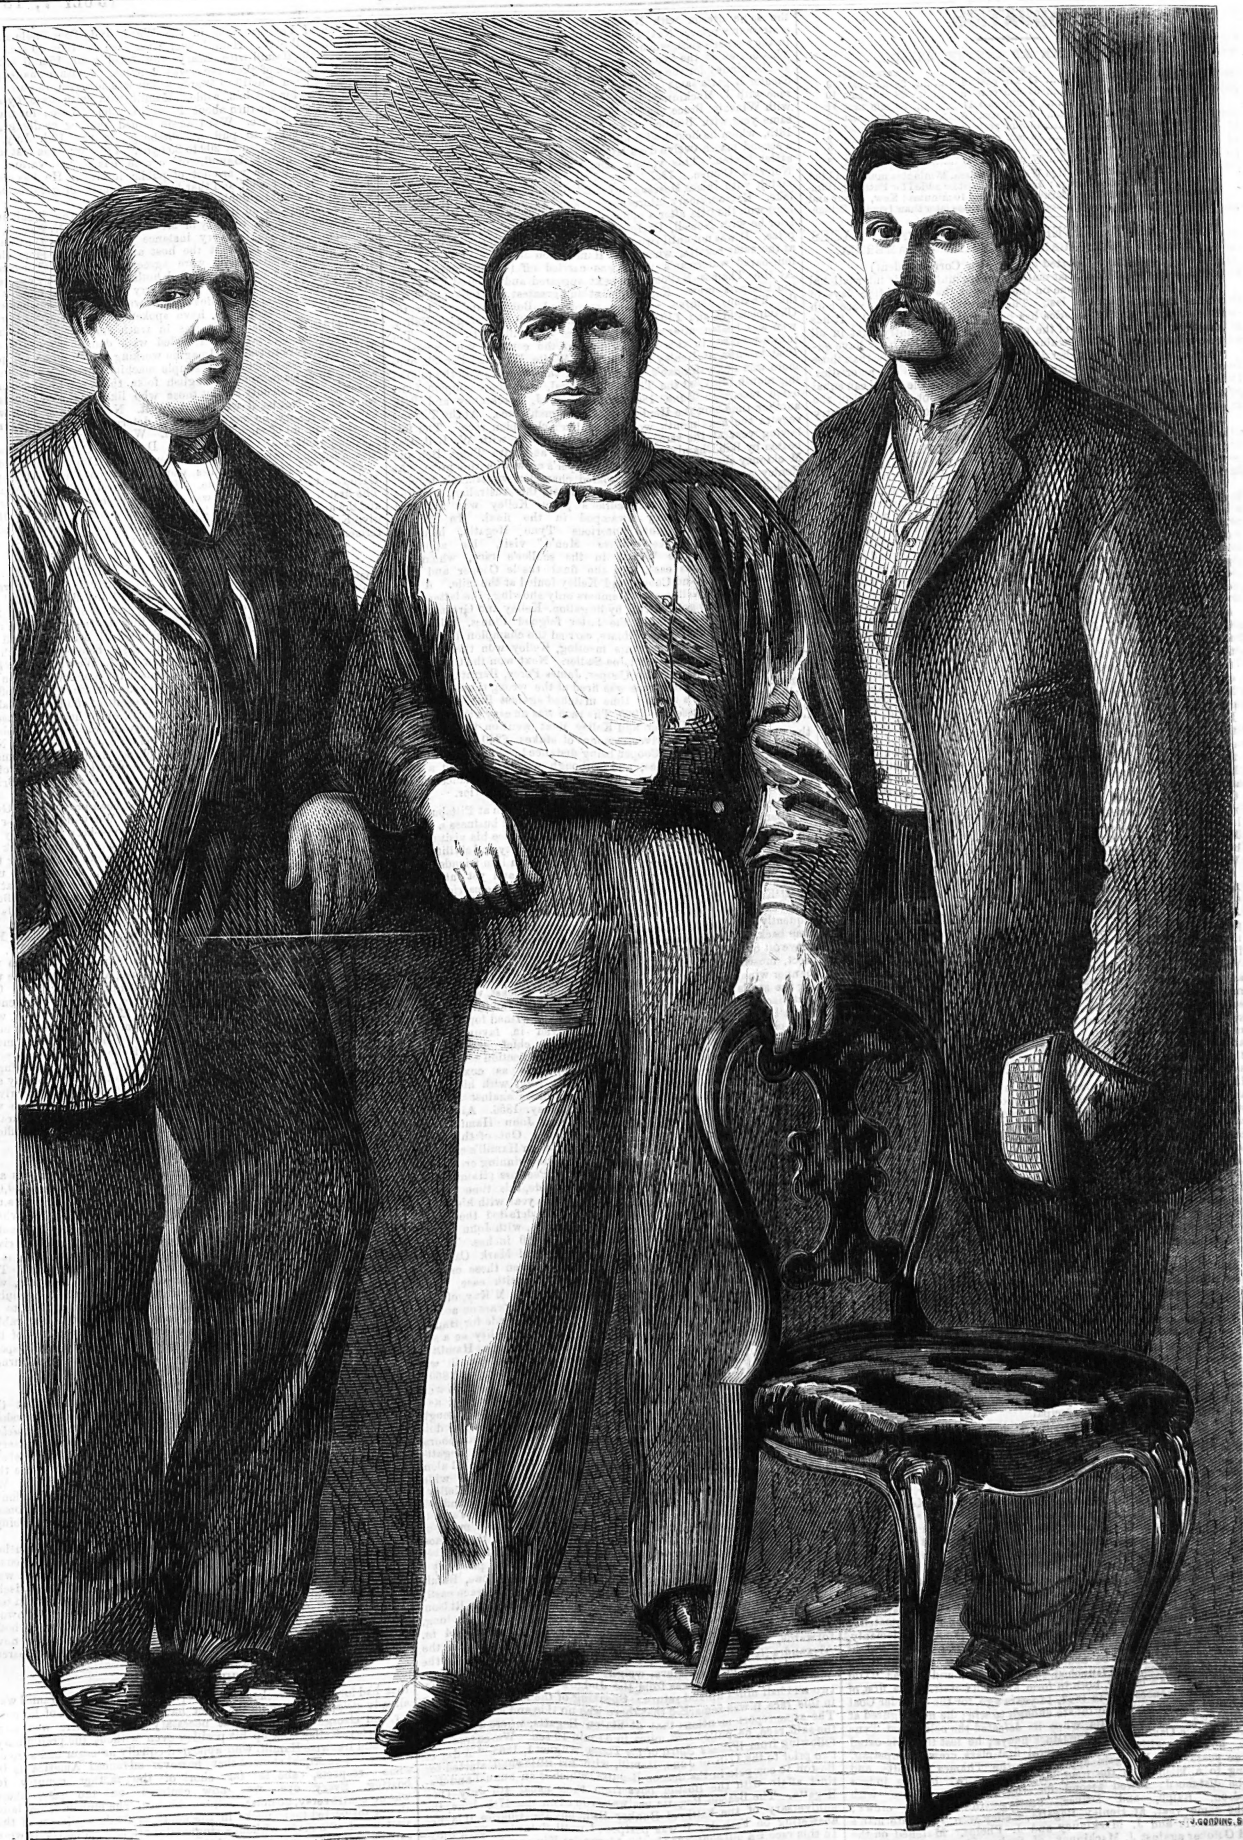

Mr. John Brougham has been playing in his own burlesque "Pocahontas." The New York public think a great deal of this piece, and one of the critics says it is the best burlesque in the English language. To those who recollect the piece as played at the Princess's, during Mr. Harri's management, and those who recollect seeing the piece, but have forgotten all else concerning it, this will sound strange.

The House of Commons Committee on Theatrical Licences have made their report. They recommend that all restrictions as to the production of stage plays should be abolished, and that the performances at the theatres and music-halls should alike be under the licensing supervision of the Lord Chamberlain. If the Legislature should adopt these recommendations, a whole free trade in the drama will be the result. Music-halls and other buildings will be licensed for the production of stage plays, subject only to the consideration of the Lord Chamberlain as to whether or not it is the best—nay, the only—way out of a perplexing difficulty. Good art will avail itself now from such a change, which indeed will take the proportions of a revolution; but we believe that the good will preponderate.

more than a tool in the hands of those who prepared the petition. After hearing Mr. Robertson's affidavit read some discussion followed. At the close the Judge Ordinary said that as the petitioner did not oppose the application, the petition must be dismissed, and it was dismissed accordingly.

THE GREAT INTERNATIONAL BOAT RACES.
KELLEY OF ENGLAND v. HAMILL OF AMERICA.

ward in America, and he was naturally understood that post-race to be practised in America to half the extent it is in England. We believe there are only two annual regattas held, and both commemorate great events in America's position, that of the battle of Bunker's Hill in June, and the gaining of their independence on the 4th of July. We may here remark that the American way of racing is not so much for the purpose of his for his champion match with Kelley for the season last assigned. Very few single matches are pulled, and there is never a great attendance of the public to witness even a champion match, certain rarely being pulled. The only way in which the American people are made aware of our great contests. As scarcely any occasion was the course selected less than a distance of 3 miles; the champion course being 5 miles, half out and half in. In most cases the races have been pulled at high water slack; or, as we term it, dead high water; of course, the American people are not so much interested in the difference of custom existing between the two countries. Hamill in almost all of his races pulled in colours—Red cap, blue shirt, and white pants. Hamill has been a most successful sculler, having won no fewer than 1000 prizes, and he has been a champion sculler for several years. He has also won several prizes for his sculling, and he has been a champion sculler for several years. His performances cannot be placed in juxtaposition with many of our own rowers, nevertheless the American proved himself to be a sufficiently talented rower to tempt his friends to export him to Old England to take part in the regatta at Henley on the Thames. In 1864 William Stevens challenged Hamill for the championship, but as the latter was at that date negotiating to pull either Green, of Australia, Chambers or Cooper, it fell through. Stevens was afterwards beaten by Ward, on the 29th September, £100 a side. Hudson River by miles; 10 to 8 on Stovey. Time, 55 min. 42 sec.

Hamill since his arrival has met with considerable public sympathy, his conduct has been gentlemanly and his dealings upright. There can be no question that he will leave the country with the public's best wishes and esteem.

The unassuming attributes of Kelley we need only in brief allude to. As an oarsman he is great and as a man respected in every circle—aristocratic or plebeian. To attain the position he holds much labour, study, attention, perseverance, and determination have been bestowed, and he holds many splendid public testimonials of value in acknowledgment. He is a skillful rower, in truth one of the swiftest and most accomplished seen on any river in the nation. Having so far described the match we will detail the principal PERFORMANCES OF THE MEN.

HENRY KELLEY is a native of Fulham, born in 1831, his age at the present time being 35 years. He is somewhat light and wiry in structure, and the model of an English carman, and not by any means the circus-visaged personage described by Johnny Hamill, the Londoner, in the Illustrated London News. Kelley's debut as a rower he has, perhaps, never forgotten. His first race was at the Regatta at Henley, in 1851, when he was only 19 years of age. He was then a carman, and he had to make his way to the Regatta and endure to place his position as champion in the correct light. Kelley is a waterman, and his great achievement over James Messenger, of Toddington, in '57, for £400, was the first bright instance of his prowess as a public note. Throughout England no professional carman is better known than Kelley. His racing life has played his cards ably and well, and although beaten by Bob Chambers for the "British Trophy" in Sept. '59, he notwithstanding worked the oarle successfully in his favour over the same unmatched power last year on the Thames. Kelley is a gentlemanly, well-to-do, and a carman, and he has been a member of the Regatta on this occasion would be about 10½th. His first race was at the Regatta of Dunstoe, was launched the other day, and named "Old England," she is a beauty, both in form and handicraft. The first of Henry's performances was in 1852, 14 years ago, for the Leander Coat and badge, which he won in the first heat; he next figured at the Regatta at Henley, in 1853, when he defeated the Leander sculler, James Candlish, and the Mackinnays; he lost the pair-coat race, however, with R. Piror, several first-class crews competing. Three years later he again appeared at the Thames Regatta, and owing to a mishap on the road, and, perhaps, by the judges being prejudiced in his favour, he was elected for the Champion. For the first time he was beaten, by the Leander crew, consisting of Messrs. Goodson, Ralph, and Driver, beating three other crews. In the same year, at Henley Regatta, Kelley won the Waterman's Coat and badge, and the Leander Coat and badge. He was again beaten by T. and J. Mackinnay and J. Phelps. Matched on the 22nd of October against J. Mackinnay, on the Thames, he was again beaten, and the result was a loss of £200. In the year subsequent, 1856, when Kelley had the trump card in hand from the first to the finish, winning easily. At Henley Regatta

Stevens, of Poughkeepsie, in the Ward, and Tom Doyle and Harington, of Boston. Hamill won with ease in 16:n 40 sec. In the doubles sculls Hamill with Leary won handily in 15:n 5. Sec. The distance in each of these races was 3 miles. Another challenge now emanated from the great crew of the "Hercules," which was accepted by Hamill, and the following day the two crews met on the water. The distance was 3 miles, and the "Hercules" won with ease by a dozen lengths, time to the turn about 21 miles, 19:n 33 sec, for the whole distance 37:n 58 sec. Ward again issued another challenge, which Hamill accepted, to pull at Pittsburg on the 10th July, 1864. Hamill won with ease by 200 to 300 yds. This was the last meeting of the great men Hamill, of course, his pulled various other small boats, but they were not so successful. He has certainly acquired himself well, and that he is a craftsman, of great calculation and speed cannot be doubted.

Since the arrival of Hamill he has located at the Blenheim Inn, Scotswood Road, the hostelry of Mr John Brown, Newcastle, where the utmost care has in every instance been shown to the Champion. We need scarcely add that the host and guest had more than an abundance of visitors who were agreeable to "treat" or converse. Hamill in a great measure avoided both. It had been expected that Hamill would have trained with Harry Clasper, but business prevented him from doing so. Both parties were disappointed. At a later date, on other issues, we have spoken of the severity of training pursued by the American, it was in truth singularly out of the way of our system, and might be attended with danger were some of our first-rate rowers to test it. Imagine working a 96lb dumbbell, pulling through on a queerly constructed, but simple machine fitted up with weights, rowing 10 miles before the English folks think of breakfasting and so forth. We can only say let those who like this nice diversity of work do it. Not us, we can help it. Never has a man worked harder for victory, here was a picture of one who has, his position is a good one. We dare say he is a hero.

Kelley remained at the Dan Cow, Danston, Gtoshed, where he took steady and careful exercise under George Drowitt, of London.

The articles for the matches were signed on the 12th May last. Each race to be for £250 a side. Hamill to receive £100 for expenses. The first half of the stakes was paid to a contemporary on signing, and the final moiety on June 25th last. It was arranged that Hamill give Kelley one month's notice of the days and course selected, the former named the river Tyne, and the 4th and 5th July.

THE DAY OF THE FIRST RACE

it was enormous, certainly not as large as when Bob Chambers and Cooper pulled the great champion race, yet not fewer than 50,000 persons must have been on the scene. The hour was early, 7.30 a.m. for the start, and had it been that hour in the evening, for which Kelley very richly endeavored, we were prepared to have noted double and perhaps more than that number. Viewed from the river the bridge was a magnificent sight, the great spans of stone and iron reality not unlikely only to die with the generation existing. The old bridge, partly obscured by the temporary wooden structure, was filled, and so was Stephenson's great triumph of beauty and ingenuity, the High Level, from which an unobstructed half mile sight is to be obtained. Along the Gateshead side, considerably west of the rabbit bank, was crowded with spectators becoming the importance of the match, and the bridge was thronged, and so on to the Swanageon Bridge, and thence to the point at Lemington. It is not from their quota of International admirers.

THE SCENE ON THE RIVER

was striking. The absence of small craft was marked, but the influx of steamers supplied the want. They were the Louise Crawshaw (R-racer), Heather Bell (Police), John Edwin (Press, Daily Chronicle), Royal Charlie, Brilliant Jarow, Blayden, Percy, Margat, Mystery, Iona, Roseamund, Montrose, Anthony Nichol, Gateshead, Robert Chambers, and one or two more, a sufficient lot certainly to cause the river to look picturesque. On the first boat were Messrs. Blakely, J. Baird, and Johnnie O'Connell, from London; Messrs. E. S. Lister and Jameson, John Young, John Adams, Thomas Harrison, Thomas Wigham, Bannister, Henry Harlow, Brown Jobbing, Matthew, Blackett W. V., Oldham, Pickett, &c., &c.

Mr. James Hall, boat builder; pilot, George Drowitt. Hamill was already in attendance, and after ten minutes' delay, and at precisely 7-27 o'clock, the two champions doffed their coverings, and within ten seconds of each other they paddled downwards to the bridge, followed by their respective cutters. Kelley was first off from the timber, both, however, were enthusiastically cheered. The police steamer soon cleared the course, and Kelley on the north side, and Hamill appeared under the second arch of the bridge, for that had for several weeks agitated athletics in England. Hamill was already stridden, Kelly on the other hand eased alongside of his cutter, and George performed that necessary office. There was now a delay, Kelly took up his position even without the preliminary trial, and the start was made. Kelly advanced, Hamill followed in victory. The signal showed that however advanced America is in some respects, she is far short of the mother country in the boat. Every eye was now centered on the pair, there was no outcry, no noise,—all was hushed. The mud on the land all but disappeared, the water was as smooth as glass. The start which was made without a single false attempt. The rivals were earnest, honour alone stimulated their actions, and we say all honour to the victor Harry Kelly, England's champion. When they were off the wings of the multitude told the tale, and that they were off the water, the party that were to follow, to help our inability, was something extraordinary. "Now then Kelly," "Stick to it Hamill," was every where repeated, and counselling ourselves to the

SOUTHAMPTON.

The Ancient Order of Foresters held their annual fête on Coronation day. The afternoon was devoted to athletic sports at the Antelope Grounds, the various contests being decided as follows:—

150 Yards Race for boys under 14 years of age.—This was run in heat, the final being won by Davis after a good struggle, by a yard; Webb 2. 1st prize, 5s.; second, 2s. 6d.

Three Mile Race.—1st prize, Gold Medal; second, 15s. Humphry, 1; O'Donnell, 2. The latter made the running at a good pace, and maintained the lead for a mile and a half, when he dropped behind, and shortly after relinquished the contest, alleging that he had a stitch in the side; he started on again however, after a short walk, and finished the distance, thus claiming the second prize.

Long Jump.—First prize, 7s. 6d.; second, 2s. 6d. G. White, 18 ft. 1; S. O'Donnell, 15, 2.

Half a Mile Race.—First prize, spade guinea; second, 10s. G. White, 1; Harvey, 2; Wilkins, 3. Wilkins went off with the lead, but was passed by White and Harvey half way, the former winning easily by 15 yds, a like distance between second and third. Time, 2 min 34 secs.

Pole Leaping.—1st prize, 15s.; second prize, 5s. G. White, 8 ft. 1; A. Anderson and S. O'Donnell tied at 7 ft 10 in, but they each cleared 8 ft. 4 in the fourth attempt.

High Jump.—1st prize, 7s. 6d.; second, 2s. 6d. G. White, 4 ft 7 in, 1; T. Wallis, 4 ft 5 in, 2.

Three Mile Walk.—1st prize, Gold Medal; second, 15s. A. Anderson, 1; Baker, 2. Anderson took the lead after the first half mile, and finally won by 150 yds.

Forester's Race, 220 yds.—1st prize, Medal; second, Horn; third, Sash. Petty, 1; Pearce, 2; Newton, 3.

Quarter Mile Race.—1st prize, 15s.; second, 5s. Petty, 1; G. White, 2. Petty took the lead from the commencement, and held it throughout, and won easily by 10 yds.

150 Yards Race.—1st prize, 10s.; second, 5s. Petty, 1; Harvey, 2. Won by a yard, after a sharp contest.

The Southampton Athletic Club will hold their annual fête at the Antelope Ground on August 6th.

On July 9, two races will take place at 100 and 200 yards respectively, to decide who shall represent the Club in the shortdistance races at the forthcoming festival of the National Olympian Association at the Crystal Palace.

MANCHESTER ATHLETIC FESTIVAL.

The third annual grand athletic festival of the city of Manchester is fixed for July 28, and, as last year, will be held upon the race-ground at Castle Irwell. The committee for promoting the exercises have issued an attractive programme, which also contains rules and information for intending competitors. From this it appears that the committee purpose giving 3s silver, and a similar number of bronze medals to be contended for. In addition to these a pedestrian champion's gold enamelled medal will be awarded to the winner of most marks in foot-racing, and a proficiency gold medal will likewise be awarded in the gymnastic contests. Pedestrianism forms a prominent feature in the programme, the events embracing a 200 yards flat race (in heats), a quarter mile hurdle race, a 120 yds flat race (heats), a mile steeple-chase, a quarter mile flat race, rifle volunteers' quarter mile flat race, a 220 yards hurdle race, and mile and half flat races, as well as contests of 120, 140, and 220 yards, for youths under seventeen years of age. The other exercises will include dumb bells, high leaping, fencing, wrestling (Cumberland style), by men under, and also by men over, 10st, boxing, gymnastics, vaulting, single-stick, throwing the cricket ball, pole-leaping, throwing at wicket, Indian club exercises, &c. The energetic honorary secretary is Messrs. J. Corbett and J. Hoey, Mr. A. Fairweather filling the office of chairman of the committee, and, if the state of the elements on July 28 should bear analogy to the patronage of the gentleman last named, there is no doubt but that the forthcoming festival will prove much more successful than that of last year.

HONOURABLE ARTILLERY COMPANY CLUB.

On Saturday last the drill ground (in the City-road) belonging to this ancient body of Volunteers was crowded to witness their annual gathering for the purpose of testing the proficiency of the members in athletic sports of all kinds, including among other things generally seen at these meetings on assault of arms (horse against foot), which created a more than average amount of interest. The committee performed their duties throughout in a most efficient manner and gave universal satisfaction. Sergeant-Major Macs acted as starter, Mr. Spice judge, and Mr. Kirby clerk of the course. Many ladies favoured the scene with their presence, and everything passed off with the greatest calm. The course was roped and staked off from the other part in a very efficient manner, and the fine band of the company played inspiring airs in a manner calculated to enhance the good opinion of their musical powers. The proceedings commenced with a Mile Walking Match.—Mr. J. H. Eglese, first; Mr. H. Pope, second; Mr. M. Jones, third. Won easily. The official time taken was ten minutes, and considering it was done on turf and just after a heavy storm the performance was not discreditable.

110 Yards Hurdle Race.—Mr. Coleman, first; Mr. Rasch, second. Time, 14 secs.

110 Yards Flat Race.—Mr. F. O. L. Rasch, first; Mr. F. O. Courthorpe, second. Won by a yard after a fine race. Time 12½ secs.

Champion Mile Race.—Mr. W. J. Spicer, first; Mr. E. A. Baylis, second; Mr. R. P. Fry, third. Four started, and after a good race Mr. Spicer won by 15 yards, four yards separating second and third. The next event was a Half Mile Walking Race (in heavy marching order).—Mr. J. H. Eglese, first; Mr. Jones, second. The second man walked in much better style than the winner, and there is no doubt that had the distance not been so short he would have appeared to better advantage. The time was 6 min 4½ sec.

Flat Race of Half a Mile.—This was a very exciting contest, and ended in a dead heat between Messrs P. G. Courthorpe and E. A. Baylis; Mr. H. Pope third, Mr. P. O. L. Rasch giving in. Time, 2 min 49 sec. Mr. Baylis walked over, Mr. Courthorpe declining to run off the dead heat.

Blindfold Race, 110 Yds.—This was won in good style by Mr. Coleman, who ran the straightest, Mr. Huggins second, Mr. R. P. Fry third. Time, 24 sec.

Three-legged Race, 110 Yds.—Messrs. Rasch and Coleman first, Messrs. Waterlow and Haggett second, Messrs. Eblett and Fry third. Time, 26 sec.

Sack Race of 110 Yds.—Six started, and caused the usual merriment; after a good race Mr. Rasch won by a yd, Mr. Coleman second, Mr. Eglese third. Time, 43 sec.

In the Assault of Arms, Sergeant Pearson, on foot, withstood the THAMES NATIONAL REGATTA.—Our illustration of this event (a full report of which appeared in our last) represents the scene near Putney. There was on this occasion, in the second race, one cannot explain, an absence of the usual crowds; nevertheless it was one of the most successful regattas that has been seen on the Thames for some time. The weather, notwithstanding the presence of a few storm clouds, was most favourable. No rain fell, and the total absence of wind left the water as smooth as a mirror. The sailing was rather above the average, and the spectators, not inconvenienced by overcrowding, lounging on the decks of the steamers, or along the towing paths, seemed to enjoy themselves immensely. The great success of this regatta, we ought to mention, has been mainly attributable to the admirable arrangements planned and carried out by the Thames Subscription Club and by their indefatigable secretary, Mr. H. C. Smith.

PORTRAITS OF KELLEY AND HAMILL.—A full-length portrait of Harry Kelley will be found in our 408th page, and of Hamill, his American rival, on the 409th page. The original photograph, from which James Hamill's likeness is taken also gives us portraits of his brother John and of his trainer, James Laughlin. They will be all recognised by those who are acquainted with the men as very faithful likenesses. There seems to be a striking contrast between the appearance of the rival champions. The outlines of Hamill's figure as well as the expression of his face seems to convey the idea of transatlantic strength, but on the other hand he looks as though he lacked the elasticity of Kelley, nor is it easy to fancy how such a man can work himself up to row sixty strokes a minute! But for a criticism on the performances of the two men we must refer our readers to another column.

THE PORTRAIT OF MR. GEORGE ANDERSON, the great Yorkshire cricketer, and one of the All England Eleven, is from an original photograph by Fall, Market-place, Bedford. Mr. Anderson has now for a number of years maintained a very high position amongst cricketers, and in all cricketing circles he has been long and widely known and respected. He came into prominence when Lord's ground was in the height of its glory, and first gained his reputation by the power and tact of his hitting. A couple of weeks ago he played a game with the Eleven against eighteen of the Manchester Club, at the old Trafford Ground, Manchester, but the weather proving unfavourable, there was a draw. We trust his name may long continue to be honourably connected with the great national game.

PROFESSOR HARRISON.—Where is the Londoner with the taste for athletic sports or who is an advocate for the development of physical strength who has not heard of Professor Harrison, or paid a visit to his house in B. Bridge-street to see "the strongest man in the world?" The club exercises of the Professor are now pretty well known; suffice it to say he can raise 84 lb with his little finger, wield clubs of 30 lb, 47 lb, and 50 lb weight with an ease and grace truly astonishing, and perform other extraordinary feats of strength better than any other man we have ever witnessed. He was, as is well-known, the originator of the Saville House Sports.

ACCIDENT TO THE PRINCE OF WALES.—An accident, of which the consequences might have been very serious, happened to the Prince of Wales in Holten-row, about a quarter-past one o'clock on Monday afternoon. His Royal Highness, who was riding at a foot's pace with one of his Equerries and two ladies, had just reached the extreme end of the Row, nearest to Queen's-gate, and was in the act of turning, when a gentleman, who seemed to have lost all control over his horse, suddenly dashed at full speed down the incline, and into the very midst of the party. The Prince's horse, being right in the path of the charging horseman, and receiving the shock on its flank or shoulder, was instantly knocked down, turning over like a rabbit struck by shot, and apparently rolling upon its rider, while the intruder passed clear over both. For a moment it seemed impossible that the Prince could escape without injury to life or limb from the struggles of his own horse. He disengaged himself, however, and got up without assistance, though at first he looked somewhat shaken, and as if suffering from a blow on the head. Recovering at once, immediately, and never losing his self-possession for a moment, he seated himself on a bench close by, while the horse was being caught, and his hat and cane picked up by the bystanders. Long before any great crowd of equestrians had gathered round the ladies, was riding homeward as if nothing had occurred, but without any visible traces of the fall upon his face and dress. It was altogether a very narrow escape, as the few who witnessed it can testify, and the Prince's composure in a very trying position did great credit to his presence of mind and good nature. He may well congratulate himself on having come off with nothing worse than a few bruises from a collision that might easily have proved fatal.

attack of Sergeant Dean with sabre, mounted on Dr. Gowland's Kitty to the great admiration and astonishment of the civilian element of the gathering. Dismounting a gun, firing three times, and other exercises, occupied 1 min 43 sec; and there was also fencing, boxing, &c. At riding at the ring, Corporal Kirby showed the greatest proficiency.

The only drawback was the heavy storm which took place at intervals during the afternoon. The various amusements—Christy's Minstrels, a men and the Richardsonian style, &c, which afforded much gratification to the ladies.

STRAWBERRY GARDENS, LIVERPOOL.—Events to come off as follows:—Monday, July 9, opening of the bowling green, Welsh main of 32, for a massive silver goblet; entries 5s.—Saturday and Monday, July 28 and 30, all England 150 yards handicap, for £25; entries of 2s. each to be made on or before Tuesday, July 8, to the proprietor, or to Mr. A. Milner, Spring-street, Sheffield.—Aug. 13, Cumberland and West-England wrestling sweepstakes, for men under 11st, eight to enter, £5 each, with £25 added by Mr. Tom Macs; first prize £50, second £20, third £10, fourth £5.

The Yorkshire Horse and Hound Show is postponed from the 31st of July to the 8th, 9th, and 10th of August, when it will be honoured with a visit from his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales.

THE BLOOD STOCK IN AUSTRALIA.—A wonderful sale of racing stock is reported to have taken place in Australia, which, however, even Mr. Heston's last and greatest success in the shade. Some years since Mr. Hartle Fisher, who lives near Melbourne, at Maribyrnong, imported from this country a number of our best horses and mares; among them Mr. P. F. Fisher and the Marchioness. On the 10th of last April the Maribyrnong stud was sold by auction. Forty-three horses, of which nine were yearling colts and eight unweaned filly foals, fetched £267,305, rather more than £200 each. The yearlings fetched 5,025 guineas—502 guineas each; 11 horses and mares in training, 11,640 guineas—1,040 guineas each; 14 brood mares, 7,040 guineas—500 guineas each; and eight unweaned fillies, 5,110 guineas—639 guineas each. A four-year-old by Fisherman—Marchioness—fetched 3,600 guineas. In spite of the horrors of democracy, Australia cannot be such a bad place after all.—Pall Mall Gazette.

THE YORKSHIRE GENTLEMEN CLUB v. STOCKTON ON-TEES.

This match was commenced on Thursday and continued over Friday, in which the full strength of the Stockton-on-Tees Club was engaged. The match was played on the Gentlemen's ground, Clarence-street (without York), and by the careful attention bestowed on this ground has become in most excellent order, in fact, it will soon be one of the best cricket grounds in England. The weather was delightful and the company very select, but owing to the want of tents the hot sun drove the people away. We hope this want will be attended to in future. By the kind permission of Colonel Jeynes the band of the 15th Hussars, under the command of Herr Koenig (brother of the artist of the same name), enhanced the attractions of the game by playing a delightful selection of music. Mr. Usher provided the lunch in his usual style. The following is the score:—

PARIS CRICKET CLUB v. VISITORS TO PARIS.

A match was played at Paris recently between the Visitors to Paris and the Paris Cricket Club, on the Pelouse de Madrid, Bois de Boulogne. The spectators took a lively interest in this match—in fact, the French seem to appreciate the game of cricket in reality. We will give the score on the Paris side. The total number of runs in the one innings was 346, of which the great score of 167 was made by Mr. Rodger; the Visitors and the Eleven of the P.C.C. subscribed on the field to present this gentleman with a bat. HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.—CONFUSION AND PAIN OF THE HEAD.—These promtary signs of coming illness should have early attention, or palpitation accompanied by uneasiness of the heart will succeed, and be followed in their turn by more serious symptoms. Holloway's Pills display their most constant and beneficial effects in dissipating these disagreeable feelings, clearing the surroundings of the brain, and removing the flatulency so oppressive after taking food. No medicine is so well calculated to restore the digestive functions, so potent to soothe the nervous system. The dyspeptic, by taking these purifying Pills, will substitute ease for pain, and once more receive vigour in the wasting body, and rekindle a healthy elasticity in the despondent
